OVERVIEW

The founding member of Lab Report (which included musicians such as Genesis P Orridge, Lydia Lunch and Chris Connelly), Matthew Schultz was the original inventor of the acclaimed A.T.G. or Anti Tank Guitar. He utilized this instrument not only with Lab Report but also with Pigface, and he performed on several of their early releases. In total Schultz has appeared on over 30 CDs with 5 solo productions and 2 feature film soundtracks (Ivan's XTC and Snuffmovie) for Hollywood director Bernard Rose (Candyman, Paperhouse, Immortal Beloved). Schultz has covered an extremely wide range of styles from dark ambient to blues to jazz.

Now Matthew Schultz unveils his newest endeavor, The Division. This sound project is a reconstruction of ancient spells and rituals reinterpreted aurally by one of the leading dark ambient artists of our time. With their first release, – "Mantras" – Matthew Schultz has delved into the esoteric and ancient fraternal order of The Division, reinterpreting the traditional texts and scores of the order to create a beautifully dynamic and sometimes disturbing disc that synthesizes world music, dark ambient and magick or Matgick.

Mantras is the first in a trilogy of discs that express all the aspects of The Division.
